

STELLA s.r.l. is an Italian Company specialized in the field of consumables for

BRAZING, SOLDERING AND WELDING technologies.

We can supply a very wide range of different products, from general purpose to special applications, in a variety of different make-ups, from standard forms to custom engineered forms, to meet specific demands, being an ideal source for any metal joining requirement.

Bare rods, coated rods, cored rods, solid and cored wires, strips (solid and tri-metals), rings, slugs, shims, discs, washers, preforms in general.

Silver based alloys, copper-phosphorus alloys, brass and copper based alloys, aluminum and zinc-aluminum alloys, soft solders, nickel alloys, powders and pastes, fluxes – for torch brazing, induction brazing and brazing in oven.

Aluminum and zinc-aluminum alloys, stainless steel, low alloyed steel, copper based alloys – for gas welding and for TIG / MIG welding of aluminum, copper and steel.

Stella is focused on value-added products always granting quality and conformity with the main international, technical and environmental standards.

Flexibility, technical support, prompt and customized service are our strengths.

Our headquarters are located in the north of Italy from where we supply Customers in more than 60 countries worldwide.

We operate regularly in English, German, French, Spanish, Portuguese and Russian language.

Our organization is certified ISO 9001 since 1998.